C. Everett Koop Victim of Pathological Cloning Scheme SEMI-RESPECTED ALBANIAN PHYSICIAN IMPLICATED

Albania (WHN) The National Institutes of Health (NIH) has announced that it is investigating illegal cloning experiments at the Albanian Medical College. In a 4 (or maybe 5) count indictment, a senior member of the Department of Pathology is being charged with illegal cloning of humans.

The "Son of Dolly" case has particularly shocked the medical establishment since it was not only perpetrated by a respected member of the community but also was directed against C. Everett Koop, the beloved ex-Surgeon General of the United States. In addition to possible abuse of NIH funds, the RJR Tobacco Company has announced that it will sue the as yet unidentified chairman of Pathology....it seems that Tobacco Grant money may also have been used for the cloning.

Surprisingly, the Drs. Koops are not all that upset by the events. While slightly decreasing their speakers fee, the Drs. Koop can now appear at up to 4-5 events at one time thus further spreading the evils of smoking and unprotected sex.

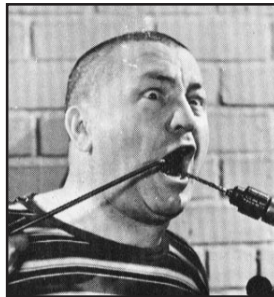

Despite Heroic Measures By French Docs, Di(ed)

Famous French Surgeon Moe Neigh, Curly Dijon, Larry Flint works to save Di!

Paris (WHN) Despite heroic efforts by crack French surgeons, Di(ed). Lead sturgeon,...errr surgeon, Moe Neigh, publically declared, "It was not my fault, the paparazzi blinded me with their flashes!"

However, others suspect incompetence on part of the sugeons. Ex-French President Francois Mitterrand, himself dead, expressed regret on part of the French nation, "Mais oui, if we had better doctors, I WOULD still be alive. I feel for Di(ed) and I feel for the British people...all except for that Margaret Thatcher... I wish she had been with Dodi." Other famous ex-French also regret the passing of Di(ed) but are not as prone to blame French medicine. Jacques Cousteau, famous dead underwater explorer, state, "I do not think the French medicine killed Di(ed). I beleive a more sinister plot may be involve.....a plot with an "aquatic" twist. What does Whales mean to you....?" Indeed, informed sources (see below story) indicate the Jacques may not be telling a "fish" story (most likely a mammal story).

What Really Happened! C.I.A. and Scotland's Yard Suspect Jealous Ex-Husband and Girlfriend

Albania (WHN) Sources deep within the CIA and Scotland's Yard (code name "Deep Doo-Doo) have informed the WHN that these organization are actively investigating whether The Prince of Wales (see photo, right) was involved.

Evidence found at the scene suggests that "Charley" might be the big tuna responsible for the excessive drinking of Di(ed) and Dodi's chauffeur. As stated by "Deep Doo-Doo", "Something is fishy". According to Deep Doo-Doo, the Surete has found a bottle of vodka addressed to the chauffeur. Hand writing analysis suggests - but can not definitively prove - that the note was written by either Prince Charles or Patricia Ramsey. Should the bottle of vodka prove to come from Charly, the future King of the sea could face criminal charges and the Tower.

To further anger the British public, several papers (the Sun, Star, Globe, National Enquirer as well as the WHN) have published photos of Charley cavorting and planting sea-kists on the baleen lips of, to quote the Sun, "that sea-cow Camilla" (see photo). The WHN will keep its public informed as to the status of this perhaps not too surprising investigation.

Di Claims Charles is a Big Toad!!!

She says life's been a grim fairy tale....

Oakland (WHN) English society has once again been devastated by a scandal involving the Royal Family. Today, Princess Diana shook the Monarchy to its core when she revealed that Prince Charles is neither man nor mouse but is a rather common garden toad.

Princess Diana revealed that Charles turns into a toad whenever he has gone longer than 24 hours without a kiss from a Princess. Diana admitted that as a consequence of their marital discord, Charles "is usually a toad these days."

While Buckingham Palace has moved quickly to squelch Diana's assertions, evidence has been obtained by the World Headline News which supports Diana's claims. Rumors circulating at the WHN further suggest that on those rare occasions that Charles must be seen in public, Buckingham Palace flies in Princess Stephanie of Monaco to do "The Royal Kissings". Though Monaco officials deny this publically, one official privately expressed his opinion that "Stephanie's well known 'kiss' for frog legs may finally have gone too far". When directly questioned as to her relationship with Charles, Princess Stephanie refused comment and screamed at reporters to get out of her way as she needed to see her dermatologist to have "a rather nasty wart removed" from her lip.

What effect Diana's revelation will have on the Monarchy is unclear. Charles is reported to be pondering abdication in favor of Prince William. While the new heir apparent is too young (by just a tad), polls indicate that William is acceptable to the Commonwealth. Queen Elizabeth, while in good health and in no danger of croaking, is reported to be pushing Charles to accept William as the next King.

In related news, in the first Royal Edict in 70 years, the Queen has banned the eating of frog legs within the U.K. Violators will be severely punished by being sent to live in France.

Oakland (WHN) Since Princess Diana's revelations about Charles, the world has wondered what the Prince of Wales actually looks like.

Troubles with the IRS? read this!

Each year tens of thousands of honest American taxpayers are hounded by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS). Among the poor innocent Americans who have been subjected to hounding by the IRS are: Al Capone, Leona Helmsley, and Joseph Gambino. Indeed, many of these poor innocent citizens have been subjected to fines and, in all too many cases, incarceration.

So what can we, America's concerned citizens, do?

According to the IRS, not a hell of a lot. Their recommendation is to pay up and shut up.....

While previous attempts to photograph the Prince in his native state have failed, special camera lenses have allowed the World Headline News to obtain exclusive photos of the toad who would be king! In a shocking photo of the Prince and Princess of Wales entering their country estate at Pond Water, the real Charles has been revealed for the first time.

Sources within the Prince's household report that while at Pond Water, Charles has been busy "fly fishing". These sources indicate that Charles favors "nymphs" from a variety of invertebrate species including the Lady Camilla bug.

When confronted with the photo documentation of Charles' affliction, the Palace Spokesman Sir Frank Kafka would not comment on the metamorphosis of Charles but stated that, "the private life and hobbies of the future King should remain private". Charles is reported to be hopping mad that this matter has reached the public eye and administered a severe tongue lashing to Diana.

War Looms in Europe !!

Today England's Prime Minister John Major threatened war with France if the French do not immediately cease the immoral and disgusting culinary trait of eating frog legs.

In a strong "Non!" the French have begun mobilizing troops along the Channel and preparing butter and garlic cluster bombs.

Is The WHN Responsible?

Albania (WHN) The purported role of the paparazzi in the death of Diana has made all responsible news agencies reevaluate their decisions regarding coverage of the famous, infamous and near famous. During a recent bathroom break, the Editor of the WHN paused to consider the role of his journal had played in the death of Princess Di.

We, unlike many publications (e.g., the Star, Sun and Weekly World News), feel confident that we DID NOT contribute to their deaths. Indeed, the WHN enjoyed a particularly close relationship with the Princess. Princess Di was quite often seen jogging in one of our sweatshirts (as shown below). We truly regret her loss.

Bob Breaks Up With Princess Di!

Bob Will Reportedly Wed American

Albania (WHN) Special WHN Correspondent Molly Mahoney reports that International Playboy Bob Scottofuku has broken off his long term romance with Princess Diana. Until recently (December 1993) Bob and Di had been linked romantically and had been observed attending several public events in each others company. However, Bob mysteriously disappeared from Di's life in December. Interestingly, it was also at this exact time that Di announced her "withdrawal" from public life. This evidence has led WHN Psychobablist Sigmoid Froid to conclude that "Di has become completely depressed as a consequence of Mr. Bob desertion and, perhaps, philandering with other women and other species." This has brought about significant pain in Di's life since it has also revived the memories of her desertion by Charlie for that dog Cinnamon.

Royal spokesperson Bucky T. King discounts the rumors rampant in the popular press (i.e., the WHN and Hard Copy) and states that Di is simply recuperating from "coronary bypass surgery". Mr. King further stated that "the apparent decision of that playboy Bob to marry some American dog, only confirms the English beliefs that Americans are socially uncultured. After all, we have evidence that Mr. Bob 'recycles'!"

Queen Elizabeth is reportedly very upset about the turn of events because the reported bride-to-be has also been linked to the royal family and was considered a possible mate for Prince Charles.

CHARITY IS LEGIT!

Mother Theresa To WHN: 'An Eye For An Eye!'

Mother 'Machine Gun' Theresa Attacks Respected Editor

Clifton Park (WHN) The 1994 edition of the usually tranquil Annual WHN Picnic was marred by the unprovoked aggression of Mother "Machine Gun" Theresa against the highly respected editor of the WHN, Mr. Mark Scott. Held on the grounds of Windsor Castle on New Years Eve, the annual event was proceeding peacefully until the obviously inebriated so-called "Mother" (according to informed sources she is actually a "Godfather" and the reputed head of the Gambino Crime Family) viciously attacked Editor Mark Scott. Ms. Theresa, after having consumed several bottles of Blue Nun, loudly accosted Editor Scott saying "You've poked fun at me once too often! You poke at me, I poke you back!" immediately prior to the vicious attack. The moment, captured in this dramatic photo, demonstrates that the head of the Gambino Crime Family is quite capable of violence. Indeed, as shown in the photo, she obviously relishes violent acts! Even in light of this evidence, Mother Theresa maintains that she is nothing more than a simple servant of God and has no ties to the New York Mafia. However, as is apparent by "Mother" Theresa's statement, she was careful to avoid mentioning either the Sicilian and New Jersey Mafia.

When questioned regarding Mother Theresa's unprovoked attack, Editor Scott defended the ongoing WHN investigation of Mother "Machine Gun" Theresa by stating, "In the world of investigative journalism, it is important that one always keep an open eye and ear to the true motives of public figures...I guess that for a short time at least the WHN will only be keeping an open ear...oooww, my eye still hurts.... mommy!?!?????"

While Interpol continues to investigate the attack, sources close to the investigation state that only an act of God could prevent Mother Theresa's arrest!

Oh Calcutta
