REPUBLICANS ANOINT BUSH: The George Washington of the 21st Century?

New York (WIN) In an exclusive photo, the WIN captured President George W. Bush crossing the Hudson into New York for the Republican National Convention. Surprisingly, despite still being early September, Junior's flotilla faced significant difficulty due to an unexpected early freeze of the Hudson river. Weather forecasters were initially confounded by this record freeze, however, WIN weather forecaster Sunny Cumulus discovered that geothermal events underlaid this frozen phenomena. Briefly explained, Sunny stated that "Hell froze over". When informed of this event, WIN political analyst Ned Ander-Thal concurred stating, "Damn, it's so obvious. Four years ago people said that there was no way Junior would win a second term... that it could only happen if hell froze over: Well, guess what." The Junior-Cheney 2004 Campaign giddily welcomed the news, exclaiming "It's clear that GOD has delivered us salvation. Oh, and I think we can dispel with that crazy 'global warming' thing..." Surprisingly, despite the clear message from GOD, the Kerry-Edward's campaign challenges Junior's views, "Our analysts have uncovered an $11,783,062,812.⁹⁹ contract, personally negotiated by Dick Cheney, to Halliburton Inc. to dispose of PCB contaminated Hudson River water via 'cyro-containment of environmental toxins'."

In announcing the re-nomination of Junior, Vice President Cheney states that "A second term for Bush will result in a newer and safer America." Homeland Security Chief Tom Ridge and Attorney General Ashcroft further clarified the VP position by stating that the NEW America "...will be safer due to Presidential Directives repealing three-quarters of the Bill of Rights, development of a new National Security Police force with unrestricted search and seizure rights, and firm enforcement of the 10 Commandments, as divined by George W. Bush." Cheney went further claiming that "George Bush is the new George Washington - remaking a secure America without the threat of an Iraqi invasion." Meanwhile, in unrelated news, immigration of US citizens to Canada is on the rise.

Vice President Cheney Decries
His Negative Public Image
Lashes Out at Kerry

New York (WHN) In an attempt to counter his negative public image, Vice President Richard (The Dick) B. Cheney has emerged from his vice Presidential Bunker in West Moldor (code named Mount Doom by the Secret Service) in an attempt to silence his critics. Speaking privately to the WHN's Ned Ander-Thal, the VP stated, "Pooooor Dickie, nassssty democrates, take away my Precious...NOOOO. I hates that hobbit Kerry, he wants my Precious. Yess, my Precious wants me. Give me my Precious. Yess, yess nice master Bush, kind master Bush. Ahhhh it hurts us, this election, yes it does, takes it awa! Nices to us yes the Supreme Court is. Ha, ha, ha silly electorate. GIVE US THE PRECIOUS!!

[Editor: translation of previous Cheney speeches suggests that

Precious is the code word for the White House] WE WANTS IT, WE WANTS IT!!!!!!"

Despite his clear stance on the coming election, political observers and Republican insiders remain concerned about Dickies... err Mr. Cheney's... public image. Image Consultant Ms. Paris Hilton reports that Mr. Cheney is viewed as an unapproachable creature.. err, politician. To soften his image, Mr. Cheney recently appeared on Oprah® where he discussed, among other things, his favorite foods; "Dickie likes fish... Yess, raw fish. Its tickles Dickie when blood trickles down Dickies chin..." and books (The Rise and Fall of the ~~Third~~ Fourth Reich). Surprisingly, this book is not on Oprah's® book list!

Despite the public display of his softer side, some critics remain unconvinced of the VP's humanity and sincerity. Dr. Bill Bow of the BAGGINS INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC POLICY feels that Mr. Cheney's extended retreat at Mount Doom has altered his perception of the real world. Indeed, according to some rumors, Mr. Cheney only recently left Mt. Doom in search of the five golden rings

WHN Exclusive Update

USDA: BLAME CANADA

RISK OF DISEASED CANADIAN COWS CONTINUES TO PURE RED, WHITE AND BLUE AMERICANS

Washington, DC (WHN) Since the discovery of Canadian Mad Cow Disease in American beef over 1 year ago, America continues to stand tall in face of this overseas (well, at least over-Erie) threat. To protect the safety of beef to the American public, the USDA and the Office of Homeland Security have instituted a state of the art sentinel system to detect the presence of illegal and potentially dangerous Canadian beef. The USDA Can-Alert Sentinel System® has, in computer modeling systems, proven effective against bovine plots by the Axis of Naughty Naughty (Canada, Quebec, and France). While the technical details of the USDA Can-Alert Sentinel System® remain a closely guarded secret the WHN has uncovered that it employs hands on inspection of bovine products and by-products. Surprisingly, the system has incurred the wrath of the willy-nilly liberals who decry its inhuman treatment of the food inspectors. However, hidden surveillance photos of the meat inspectors obtained by the WHN news clearly debunk the liberal media's attempt to tarnish this patriotic Presidential Directive to protect the American public from the Axis of Naughty-Naughty. As can be seen, the USDA inspectors seem to enjoy their jobs.

USDA Meat Inspectors hard at work against Canadian Beef.
